

C. S. Lewis—The Work of Christ Revealed

P. H. Brazier

Sectional Contents

Foreword | xiii

Introduction C. S. Lewis—The Work of Christ Revealed | 1

1. Who or What is the Christ | 1
2. Why C. S. Lewis | 3
3. Aims and Objectives | 4
4. Explanations, Qualifications | 6
 - i. Revelation and Reason | 6
 - ii. Patristic | 7
 - iii. Platonism | 7
 - iv. Apologist/Apologetics | 8
 - v. Creation, Fall, Incarnation, Resurrection, Second Coming, and the Four Last Things | 8
 - vi. Liberal/Liberal, Modernism | 9
 - vii. Pagan | 9
 - viii. Romantic | 10
5. “. . . and the Collected Works of C. S. Lewis” | 11
6. Lewis on the Christ: God and Redeemer | 12
 - i. Part One: Scripture—Revelation Transposed | 12
 - ii. Part Two: The Revelation of Christ—God, or a Bad Man | 13
 - iii. Part Three: Christ Prefigured—Intimations to the Pagans | 14
7. Lewis’s Christ | 15

PART ONE SCRIPTURE—REVELATION TRANSPOSED

Chapter 1 Scripture, Revelation, and Reason I: Skepticism and Suspicion | 21

1. Person, Act, Event | 22
2. C. S. Lewis on Scripture | 24
 - i. Illumination and Revelation | 24
 - ii. Genre | 26
 - iii. Language | 27
3. The Historicity of Scripture | 27
4. The Humanity of Scripture | 30
 - i. Reflections on the Psalms | 30

C. S. LEWIS—THE WORK OF CHRIST REVEALED

- ii. The Clyde S. Kilby Letter | 31
 - Divine and Human Origin | 32
 - Levels of Historicity | 32
 - A Human Element | 32
 - Mythological Narratives | 32
 - Divinely Inspired Writings | 32
 - Inspiration and the Purposes of God | 33
- 5. The Gospel according to John | 33
 - i. Skepticism and Suspicion | 33
 - ii. Lock, Vidler, and Bultmann | 35
 - iii. Modern Theology and Biblical Criticism | 37
 - Genre and Types of Literature: Expertise | 38
 - Historical Superiority | 39
 - The Non-Miraculous | 40
 - Sitz im Leben* | 40
- 6. Modern Scholarship and Agnosticism | 42

Chapter 2 Scripture, Revelation, and Reason II: Mediation and the Bible | 45

- 1. C. S. Lewis: A Doctrine of Scripture? | 46
 - i. Doctrine | 46
 - ii. Inerrancy and Infallibility | 46
 - The Freedom Model | 46
 - The Amanuensis Model | 48
 - The Automaton Model | 48
 - The Humanist Model | 48
 - iii. Inspiration | 50
 - iv. Interpretation: Local and Universal Genre | 52
- 2. The “word” of God and the “Word” of God | 52
 - i. Scripture (word) in Relation to the Christ (Word) | 52
 - ii. C. S. Lewis and Karl Barth—The Word of God in a Threefold Form | 55
 - Barth: The Word of God Preached | 57
 - Barth: The Word of God Written | 58
 - Barth: The Word of God Revealed | 59
 - Lewis: The Threefold Form of the w/Word of God | 59
 - iii. Lewis and Barth: Convergence and Divergence | 61
- 3. Revelation and the Christ-Event | 62
 - i. Revelation and the Bible | 62
 - ii. Christensen-Walker on Revelation in Lewis | 63
 - The Experience of the Numinous, God’s Holiness | 64
 - The Universal Ought: Cosmic Bluff or Moral Responsibility | 64
 - Sehnsucht*: the Hound of Heaven | 64
 - Election: Israel and the Law | 64
 - Good Dreams: Pagan Premonitions of Christ | 65
 - Incarnation: The Word of God Revealed | 65

4. A Hierarchy of Revelation | 66
 - i. Mediation | 66
 - ii. Revelation as Supra-Theological Categories | 68

Chapter 3 Scripture, Revelation, and Reason III: Idealism and Transposition | 71

1. Introduction | 72
2. Transposition | 72
 - i. Platonic Idealism | 72
 - ii. Revelation Transposed | 73
3. Incarnational Transposition | 77
 - i. communicatio idiomatum | 79
 - ii. Veiling-Unveiling: The Knowability of God | 80
 - iii. Human Fallibility: the Misreading of the Transposition | 80
4. The Key to Lewis's Work: A "Flawed" Doctrine of Transposition | 82
5. Modes of Revelation Subsumed into Eternity | 84

PART TWO THE REVELATION OF CHRIST—GOD, OR A BAD MAN

Chapter 4 aut Deus aut malus homo I: What did Lewis Say? | 89

1. Introduction | 90
2. Lewis: "God . . . or a Bad Man": The Early Works | 91
 - i. Correspondence—August 1939 | 92
 - ii. Correspondence—March 26, 1940 | 92
 - iii. The Problem of Pain (1940) | 93
 - iv. Broadcast Talks (1942) | 94
3. Lewis: "God . . . or a Bad Man": The Middle Works | 95
 - i. "Is Theology Poetry?" (1944) | 95
 - ii. "Christian Apologetics" (1945) | 95
 - iii. Miracles (1947) | 96
4. Lewis: "God . . . or a Bad Man": The Later Works | 97
 - i. "What Are We to Make of Jesus Christ?" (1950) | 97
 - ii. The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe (1950) | 98
 - The Lucy triumvirate | 98
 - The Structure of the Professor's Argument | 98
 - iii. Mere Christianity (1952) | 100
 - iv. Reflections on the Psalms (1958) | 100
 - v. "The Language of Religion" (1960) | 101
 - vi. "Cross-Examination" (1963) | 102

Chapter 5 aut Deus aut malus homo II: The Theological Tradition | 103

1. "God . . . or a Bad Man": The Patristic and Medieval Theological Tradition | 103
 - i. The Gospels | 104
 - ii. The Apostle Paul | 106
 - iii. Patristic Roots? | 106

C. S. LEWIS—THE WORK OF CHRIST REVEALED

- iv. Pope Innocent III—aut Deus es aut homo | 107
- v. Thomas Aquinas—Pride and Humility | 108
- vi. Sir Thomas More: “If Christ were not God, he would be no Good Man either” | 109
2. “God . . . or a Bad Man”: The Post-Reformation Theological Tradition | 110
 - i. Protestant and Reformed Developments: John Calvin | 110
 - ii. Protestant and Reformed Developments: John Duncan | 110
3. Mark Hopkins—Condition, Claims, and Character | 111
4. Henry Parry Liddon | 113
 - i. Christus, si non Deus, non bonus | 114
 - ii. “Our Lord’s Divinity as Witnessed by his Consciousness” | 115
 - iii. The Moral Character of Jesus? | 116
 - iv. Christ’s Self Assertion and His Character | 119
 - v. Did Lewis read Liddon? | 120
5. G. K. Chesterton | 120
6. Contemporary Developments | 123
7. “Unbalanced Liar,” “Possessed,” or “The God of Israel”:
The Johannine trilemma | 124

Chapter 6 aut Deus aut malus homo III: Divine Self-Disclosure | 127

1. Introduction | 128
2. Self-Disclosure—Understanding and Identity? | 128
 - i. A Declaration of Identity? | 128
 - ii. The Tabernacle Presence—Signals of Transcendence | 129
3. C. S. Lewis: Transposed Reality of Divine Sonship | 130
 - i. Markers of Self-Disclosure I: Sonship—Identity and Becoming | 131
 - ii. Markers of Self-Disclosure II: Incarnation | 133
 - iii. Markers of Self-Disclosure III: Messiah | 134
 - iv. Markers of Self-Disclosure IV: “Son of God,” “Son of Man” | 135
 - v. Markers of Self-Disclosure V: “I Am” | 137
 - vi. Markers of Self-Disclosure IV: Trinitarian | 138
4. Divine Self-Disclosure—Scripture | 139
 - i. Divinity | 139
 - ii. Miracles | 141
 - iii. Witness | 142
 - iv. Old Testament Prefigurements | 143
 - v. Worship | 144
 - vi. Forgiving of Sins | 144
5. The Reliability of The Gospel according to John | 145

Chapter 7 aut Deus aut malus homo IV: Arguments For and Against | 151

1. Arguments for Self-Disclosure—Divine Sonship | 151
 - i. “He is who He Reveals himself To Be” | 151
 - ii. The Argument from Orthodoxy | 152
 - iii. A Jewish-Christian Model | 154

2. Arguments against Self-Disclosure—The Merely Human | 156
 - i. A Model of Scripture | 156
 - ii. A Model of “God” | 157
 - iii. The Scandal of Particularity | 159
3. A Model of Obstinance? | 161
 - i. A Post Mortem Socratic Dialogue | 162
 - ii. Reason and Logic: The “god” of the Philosophers | 162
 - iii. Insanity | 164

Chapter 8 aut Deus aut malus homo V: Lewis’s Trilemma | 165

1. Introduction | 166
2. The Structure of Lewis’s Argument | 166
3. A Philosophical Analysis: Stephen T. Davis | 169
 - i. The Nature of the Argument: Proof, Validity, Soundness | 170
 - ii. Critical Objections | 172
 - iii. Claims of Divinity | 172
 - iv. The Value of the Argument | 173
4. A Philosophical Analysis: Peter Kreeft | 174
 - i. aut Deus aut homo malus, et non homo malus, ergo Deus | 174
 - ii. Deductive Proof—Trustworthiness and Sagacity | 176
5. Proof . . . or a Question, a Human Dilemma? | 176
 - i. A Concept of God | 177
 - ii. Proof? | 179
 - iii. Insanity? | 181
6. aut Deus aut malus homo | 182
 - i. Pneumatological Preparation | 183
 - ii. Trilemma or Dilemma? | 185
7. Conclusion | 186

PART THREE CHRIST PREFIGURED— INTIMATIONS TO THE PAGANS

Chapter 9 Christ as the Light of the World I: A Doctrine of Christological Prefiguration | 191

1. Introduction: The Work of Christ, Revealed | 191
2. A Doctrine of christological Prefiguration | 192
3. Myth and Reality, Fact and Fiction | 194
 - i. Myth | 194
 - ii. Lewis on Myth | 196
 - iii. Religion as a Human Construct | 197
4. Sir James George Frazer | 199
 - i. Religion and Anthropology—A Worldview | 199
 - ii. A Paradigm: Revelation Precedes Religion | 201
5. Lewis’s Conversion—Atonement and Prefiguration | 202
 - i. Natural Theology and Revelation | 202

C. S. LEWIS—THE WORK OF CHRIST REVEALED

- ii. Myth Became Reality | 206
- 6. The Incarnation-Resurrection Narrative | 208
 - i. Myths of Prefiguration—Incarnation | 209
 - ii. Myths of Prefiguration—Resurrection | 213

Chapter 10 Christ as the Light of the World II: Revelation and Meaning—Imagination, Illumination, and Prevenience | 217

- 1. Second Meanings | 218
 - i. Intention and Validity | 218
 - ii. Plato and the Christ | 219
 - iii. Wisdom | 221
- 2. Imagination, Idolatry, and the Theological Tradition | 223
- 3. J. R. R. Tolkien | 225
 - i. Sub-Creation | 225
 - ii. Mythopoeic/Mythopoeia | 226
 - iii. Refractions and Splinters of the True Light | 227
 - iv. Eucatastrophe | 229
- 4. Samuel Taylor Coleridge | 229
 - i. The English Romantics | 229
 - ii. The Categorical Imperative | 230
 - iii. Primary and Secondary Imagination | 231
 - iv. MacDonald on Coleridge | 232
- 5. Augustine of Hippo | 236
 - i. Natural Theology and Revealed Theology | 236
 - ii. Revelation, Inspiration, and Illumination | 238
 - iii. Prevenience | 240
- 6. C. S. Lewis: A General or Special Theory of Illumination? | 242

Chapter 11 Christ as the Light of the World III: Refractions—Splintered Fragments of the True Light | 245

- 1. Why Prefiguration? | 246
- 2. Splintered Fragments of the True Light: How do these Prefigured Ideas Come to Be in Pagan Myths? | 247
 - i. A Developing Understanding | 247
 - ii. Pagan Mythopoeia and the Shepherds | 248
 - iii. Pagan Prevision | 250
 - iv. Demonic Mimicry and the Fall? | 251
 - v. A Baptized Imagination | 253
- 3. The Refracted Light of Revelation | 254
- 4. A Temporal Paradox? | 255
- 5. How Does the Incarnation-Resurrection Narrative Act/Operate on Us as a Myth, Whether Spoken or Read? | 257

6. Is There Internal Evidence for a Mythopoeic Interpretation within the Incarnation-Resurrection Narrative? | 258
 - i. “The Pattern is there in Nature because it was First there in God” | 258
 - ii. The Death-Descent/Rebirth-Reascent Paradigm | 260
7. Why? Why Not? | 261
8. A Doctrine of Christological Prefiguration—Conclusion | 263

Conclusion. The Work of Christ—Revealed | 265

Select Bibliography | 269

- Letters and Articles by C. S. Lewis | 269
- Books by C. S. Lewis | 271
- Other Books and Articles | 271

Indexes

- Index of Names | 279
- Index of Subjects | 282
- Index of C. S. Lewis’s Works | 291

